JOHNNY WONDER

Q. "HOW DO SCALLOPS SWIM?"

BRITTO EVITS, OF
QUINCY CITY, ILL.,
WINS A PRIZE FOR THIS QUESTION.

A. Most bivalves find a place to live and stay there. Mussels fasten themselves to rocks or piling, and most clams spend their lives burrowed in sandy bottoms. But the scallop is a traveler. It is constantly moving from place to place. The scallop is a kind of shellfish that looks something like a clam. Like oysters and clams, the shells of scallops have two tightly fitting sides or valves, so they are known as bivalves. Adult scallops swim by clapping their shells together. This expels a jet of water that moves the scallop through the water in a zigzag fashion.

You can win a World Almanac if your question is selected. Send your name and age to JOHNNY WONDER, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1358, Santa Cruz, CA 95061.
